

CLL 348 : Sociolinguistics

Designed to help students interested in language learn how language functions in a social context. Topics include language and cultural meaning, connections between language variation and geographical/ethnic backgrounds, social class and social networks, age and gender, forms of address and politeness, non-verbal communication, language for social change, and language education and policy.

Credits 3

Attributes

Cross listed

Diversity Domestic

Appropriate for First-year Students

Upper-Level

Cross Listed

TESO 348