

EDUC 120 : Foundations of Education

Students examine the present U.S. educational system and the nature of its social impact using the lenses of history, sociology and philosophy. Designed to provide the foundation for further study, this course is recommended for first-year students.

Credits 4

Attributes

Diversity Domestic