ACCT 230 : Managerial Accounting

An introduction to the use of accounting for making decisions in organizations, including the history of managerial accounting, concepts and techniques related to internal decision-making, the relations between financial and managerial accounting, and current ethical issues in the field.

Credits 3
Prerequisites
ACCT 200: Financial Accounting
Corequisites
ACCT 200: Financial Accounting
Attributes
Co-Req
Appropriate for First-year Students
Pre-req