ENGR 251: Socially Responsible Engineering

Socially Responsible Engineering will investigate the ethical challenges in engineering projects from both a technical and social perspective. Through the use of case studies, ethical decisions made by engineers and other technical specialists will be investigated and discussion will be had around the impact on the communities where these projects are built.

Credits  3
Prerequisites
Sophomore Standing or Above

Attributes
Diversity Domestic
Pre-req
Upper-Level